

Advancing San Diego

The Border Region Inclusive Talent Pipeline Collaborative

Advancing San Diego seeks to address talent shortages by strengthening alignment between industry and education systems.

What is an Employer Working Group?

An employer-led collaborative that address employer's shared workforce needs. Through a data-driven process, employers will assess critical jobs and the skills and competencies those jobs require in order to communicate collective demand and strengthen the local pipeline of entry-level talent in San Diego and Imperial Counties.

Who should participate?

All San Diego and Imperial County employers interested in strengthening their regional talent pipeline.
